SEE THE SIGNS

There is a reason for everything. All that you see, feel and think has a purpose. Something or someone that you came across by surprise actually has meaning.

In every experience that you have, negative or positive ones, is a message to be decoded. Timely and important messages are delivered to you all the time. Start being more aware of them, and with a sense of wonder and discovery, lovingly try to understand the hidden meanings behind everything.

Your life has been an accumulation of insights and wisdom, and from a special place, it is eager to communicate with you. Your future is filled with untold possibilities beckoning you to explore it all.

You are where you are today, here in this moment not by chance. You're here right now sitting in that chair because of your intentions, experiences and miraculous synchronicity. Every skill you have acquired, every piece of knowledge that you have accumulated, every lesson you have learned in your life has brought you here.

See signs in things, meetings and happenings. Connect the dots. Feel the messages, and take action. Trust, and go do the right thing.

Think about: Why am I here, at this university, right now?

[5] Circle True or False (answers depend on you):

- Everything in this world happens simply by chance. [true / false]
- There is a message to be decoded in every experience we have. [true / false]
- I should not be at this university. [true / false].
- I can see signs. [true / false]
- I don't trust signs, I trust myself! [true / false]

[6] Task: Spell the jumbled words:

there is a eanrso for everything ()

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT

In pairs or in a small group, answer or do the following:

1. Examples of "signs"

- "That morning the roads looked slippery and I had a bad feeling. But, I drove anyway and then I had an accident."

2. Imagine you have a friend who says "I don't see any signs." How can help him or her become more aware of signs?

3. What does "connect the dots" mean?

4. "With a sense of wonder and discovery" means to see the world in and around you as a treasure map to be decoded with a positive, childlike innocence. What are some "wow" moments that people can realize only if they have a sense of wonder and discovery?
